Bagnara di Romagna

An immensely charming old-town where the atmosphere of distant ages fills the air

Centro storico di grande fascino dove si respira ancora
l’atmosfera di epoche lontane

Historisches Zentrum von großem Reiz, wo die Atmosphäre der vergangenen Zeiten noch spürbar ist.

Benedetti a Bagnara di Romagna, unico esempio, nella pianura emiliana-rinascimentale, di castello medievale tuttora integralmente conservato, presenta un centro storico di notevole interesse, che testimonia una grande fortuna, nei vari secoli, dell’architettura civile e religiosa.

Welcome to Bagnara di Romagna, the only example in the Emilia-Romagna plain of a medieval castle which is still fully preserved: it has an old-town of considerable interest which bears witness to a flourishing development of civil and religious architecture over the centuries.

Bienvenido a Bagnara di Romagna, un ejemplo único, en la llanura del Emilia-Romagna, de una ciudad medieval conservada íntegramente, presenta un centro histórico de gran interés, que testimonia una grande prosperidad, en los diversos siglos, de la arquitectura civil y religiosa.

Situato nel settore nord occidentale dell’ampia pianura alluvionale che circonda Ravenna, Bagnara di Romagna sorge lungo il Stradello Guelfo, l’unico parco parallelo alla via Emilia che un tempo collegava i castelli, chiese e residende signorili, da Bologna fino al mare Adriatico. Quello di Bagnara è un vero e proprio esempio di costruzione medievale integratamente conservato, con il nucleo medievale della Rocca Sforzesca, che oggi apparemo nell’impianto che lo fu nel Quattrocento, a l’imponente castello di Santa Andrea con la torre d’ingresso e quattro piccoli bastioni che dominano il verde panorama del Castello.

Grazie all’intervento di una vasta risorsa archeologica, che si estende per un’area di circa 20 ettari, è possibile visitare il parco, che si estende da via Emilia a via San Francesco, attraversato da un sentiero pedonale, che conduce alla culla del castello, la chiesa di San Francesco, con il suo campanile, e alla piazza del Castello, con la sua fontana e le sue case.

A due chilometri dal centro storico, si trova il Parco delle Ville di Ravenna, un parco che si estende per un’area di circa 20 ettari, con un sentiero pedonale che conduce alla culla del castello, la chiesa di San Francesco, con il suo campanile, e alla piazza del Castello, con la sua fontana e le sue case.

Situated in the northwest area of the extensive alluvial plain surrounding Ravenna, Bagnara di Romagna lies along the Stradello Guelfo, the only parallel road to the Via Emilia that once connected the castles, churches and residences from Bologna to the Adriatic sea. Bagnara is a rare example of an integral preserved medieval castle: the thirteenth-century plant of the rock of the Rocca Sforzesca, and the imposing walls with its entrance tower and four small bastions which dominate the green panorama of the Castle.

A couple of kilometres from the city, one can visit the Museo delle Ville di Ravenna, an open-air museum that is open to the public and can be visited on foot or by car. The museum is divided into two parts: the lower part, which is dedicated to the history of the city, and the upper part, which is dedicated to the history of the castle.
